

Jersey Road Co-op Wolverton approx 1911-13

Thomas Taylor (on left) worked in this shop before the War. Around the time of this photo he received a letter from senior management congratulating him on the neatness of the shop. Food could be ordered to be delivered to home and paid for on a bill later, as most people either walked or cycled to the shops. During the War, he served in the Army, was gassed and honourably discharged.

Source HF8