

THE GREAT WAR

LIVING ARCHIVE MILTON KEYNES

Remembered

Military: Gun carriage team at Wolverton during manoeuvres in 1913

The fields and roads around Wolverton and New Bradwell were filled with army and cavalry exercises like this when the British Army carried out military manoeuvres. The public and children could go right into the camps and observed army life at close hand, entertained the troops and missed school due to watching the soldiers in mock battles.

Source MIL 5